

Anna Berezovskaya, b. 1986

Anna was born in the town of Yakhroma in Russia and became a student of Abramtsevsky Art and Industrial College in 2001. Despite her young age, Anna has already achieved national and international recognition.

At a first glance, Berezovskaya's paintings seem innocent and girlish, portraying dreamlike kingdoms and intriguing inhabitants. But at a closer look, one can discover numerous symbols, emotions and humor enriched by surrealistic touches.

In almost all of her paintings she depicts herself, her own world full of beautiful images with symbolic content. Berezovskaya uses her exceptional talent and professional skills at creating complex, multi-figured compositions of Knights, Queens, Monarchs and beautiful ladies following an absolutely realistic approach. Her paintings are her world, which she wants to share with the viewer.

"When I was little, my parents were always busy working so I was left home alone all the time. Being an imaginative kid I loved reading fairytales and then started creating my own. When I became a painter, those fantasies were naturally reflected in my paintings," she said.

Berezovskaya varies her technical methods and approaches within a painting, which is a testimony to the diversity of her talent, combining almost photo-realistic images with surprising combinations of light and color, decorative elements and abstract-looking splashes of paint. The combination of her techniques and methods give the viewer a strong experience and deep appreciation of romantic-spiritual beauty.

Her artworks are highly sought after by serious art collectors and investors in Russia, US, France, Netherlands, Hong Kong and Singapore. The artist currently lives and works in Moscow, Russia.
